SEARCH FOR A SISTER

Richard Leggett, of Chester, Pa., Was Here Yesterday.

THEY LIVED IN IRELAND

He Came to America to Join the Union Army, and Sarah Brown, Who Was His Foster Sister, Came to Columbiana County to Live—She is Married and He Does Not Know Her Name.

Among the people who arrived in the city late on Saturday night was a man in search of his sister, and all of yesterday he sought her but without avail, and was compelled to continue his journey without learning her whereabouts.

Thirty-five years ago there lived in the county of Tyrone, Ireland, a farmer who was known to his friends as George Leggett. He was an industrious, hard working man, and through a long and useful life had accumulated what was considered by his friends a comfortable fortune. In his family was a son bearing the name of Richard, who, chafing under the strict rule of life in Ireland and constantly hearing so much of the American war then in progress, decided to cross the ocean. He at once enlisted and after serving on the Union side with honor to himself, settled at Chester, Pa. In the same family was Sarah Brown, who had been adopted by the Leggetts, and several years after Richard came here she followed, coming to Columbiana county. The brother in Pennsylvania heard of her being here, but the cares of life pressing upon him he gradually lost sight of her; but recently he decided to attend the encampment at Louisville, and stopping here on the way endeavor to find her. Sarah Brown, the young girl he knew so well in Ireland, is now married and living in this vicinity probably between Smith's Ferry and Wellsville, and is about 60 years of age. Leggett does not know her name, but is very anxious to see her. He went to Louisville this morning, but will return here on Thursday, and any information that is left at this office will be thankfully received by him. He does not know the name of the man to whom she was married, but still hopes that she can be found.

WAR AT WALKER.

Hostilities Saturday and Sunday, but Quiet Today.

The Ohio Valley Gas company attempted to take up their pipe on the premises of N. U. Walker Saturday, and met with a resistance of no ordinary variety. Mr. Walker did not appeal to the law for an injunction but had his man on the ground in full force and the work was stopped. Yesterday the same thing was repeated. The company's men appeared ready to start again on the work of tearing up the pipes, but were met by a large force of Walker's men and did not attempt to start.

A riot was expected today as it was announced that the men would come together again, but a telephone message to Walker brings the information that the gas men did not show up.

Mr. Corcoran, of the Ohio Valley company, could not be seen this afternoon, and a message from the office said they "didn't know anything about it." It is understood that Mr. Walker claims the ownership of the pipe, and will allow it removed if an acknowledgment is made by the Ohio Valley people.

BEST IN THE WORLD.

What a Pittsburg Department Store Thinks of Liverpool Ware.

A representative of the News Review, in conversation with a crockery buyer connected with one of the largest department stores in Pittsburg, learned on Saturday night that they like Liverpool ware.

"You make in Liverpool the best white granite in the world," he said, as he pointed to a large stock from several potteries, "and we are only too glad to buy it when the price is so we can sell it in competition with English ware. Last spring we didn't buy from Liverpool, because we couldn't afford to do it, but they have the price down now, and we buy all we can handle. It is good ware, and sells better than any English ware of its grade we have in stock."

CLEAN THEM OUT.

A Citizen Tells of Some Disease Breeding Places.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—Our sanitary authorities should take a jaunt of investigation along the river front and collide with a few of the out-houses in connection with the potteries. These places are bad enough in cold weather, but during the present heated season and while the river is down to a mere creek they are almost unbearable. The stench arising as street cars pass them is something awful. That workmen in the potteries are compelled to endure it is not right. The carcass of some dead animal near the freight depot also makes street car passengers hold handkerchiefs to their noses as they pass by.

TOOK HIS TICKET.

Bado Hague Was Robbed By Some One.

Bado Hague was robbed while standing near the corner of Washington and Sixth streets on Saturday night, and now mourns the loss of his gold watch. He entered the office of the Hotel Grand, and there took the timepiece from his pocket. From there he walked into the street, and in a few minutes, having occasion to look at the watch, found it was gone. He was greatly excited, and wanted the police to search all the people in that part of town.

The police learned yesterday that Hague was under the influence of liquor when he lost his watch, and it had been taken from him by some of his friends. It had not been returned this morning, but the authorities think it will appear in due time.

WIDELY SCATTERED

Are the Members of T. O. Timmons' Regiment, but They Meet This Week.

Among the veterans who went to Louisville, none rode away with a lighter heart than T. O. Timmons, for he will soon be shaking hands with the grizzled old soldiers who made up the First California cavalry, one of the noted regiments of the war. They fought whenever there was a chance to fight, and were celebrated for being hard workers when in the field. They are scattered all over the country, and never meet, except at the national encampment. In Pittsburg last year one veteran from Maine was shaking hands with another from the Sandwich Islands, while members of the regiment now living in seven different states looked on with pleasure.

FOOLED THE SQUIRE.

He Wanted an Attachment, but the Other Man Was Cute.

The household goods of Doc Ritz, a potter, were shipped to Wheeling today, but not before a little brouhaha which caused one man discomfort. Squire James McCormick had a bill for rent against Ritz, and wanted an attachment on the effects, but the debtor had anticipated the move, and, although he was going to Wheeling, had the goods billed to Bridgeport. That town being in the state exempts them from execution. Ritz claims he will not pay the rent because the squire refused to allow a stove put up in one room of the house, and in consequence a child became ill and the doctor bill amounted to more than the rent.

ANOTHER HORSE

Sent to the Happy Hunting Grounds Yesterday.

Since the compulsory shooting of the horse last week by a Humane officer, the society had no cases until yesterday when a call came from the Lisbon road.

Humane Officer Lloyd responded and found an old horse about to pass in its checks on the banks of the future horse land. He assisted the suffering brute in its departure by a well aimed bullet.

The horse was found near the residence of William Fisher, but the name of its owner was not learned. The Humane society is hunting for the man who left the horse there, and will prosecute him.

GONE TO LOUISVILLE.

Liverpool Sent a Good Delegation Today.

The special which carried Grand Army men and their friends to Louisville this morning, took 22 people from this city, and F. H. Croxall went on the nine train. Among those in the party were W. H. Surles and wife, Mrs. John Willie, T. O. Timmons, Will Gardner, R. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. A. Shenkle, Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Ralston and E. N. Huntsman. The party will arrive in Louisville this evening, having passed across Ohio and through a portion of Indiana, and will return the end of the week.

OVERCOME WITH HEAT.

Howard Davis Fainted in a Kilnshed Today.

Howard Davis, a kilnhand at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery, was a victim of the heat today.

He was going about his work as usual when he fell senseless on the kilnshed floor. He was carried into open air and Doctor Clark summoned. This afternoon Davis is recovering and his condition is not considered serious by the attending physician.

ONE GRUDGE SETTLED

Kiln Boss and Kiln Hand In a Street Brawl.

A MAN WITH A CHEESE KNIFE

Makes Matters Interesting For Officer Earle—Three Men Who Were Drunk and Disorderly and Saw the Jail Saturday Night—Police Court News.

Police court had a rush of business Saturday night that enlivened matters at city hall to an appreciable extent.

The most serious trouble demanding the attention of the officers was a setto between William Allen and Thomas May. Allen is boss kilnman at the Knowles pottery and May, who was formerly a kiln hand at the same place, is now engaged at the Union pottery. There was an old grudge between the pair, so when they came together in front of Moore & McGhie's place of business on Sixth street Saturday night about 9:30, they tried to settle it. Which was the aggressor is hard to determine, as two blows were struck and neither seemed to be the quicker. Both men went to the pavement at the same time, and each has a black eye and the skin is broken just above both optics. The flow of gore was accordingly small. May was taken to Davidson's billiard parlor to wash his face, while Officer Jennings arrested Allen and took him to city hall. He left security for his appearance today and was allowed to depart. There is a charge of fighting against him and he placed a charge of assault and battery against May. The affair caused considerable excitement and was the talk of the town yesterday, as both men are well known.

Orville McKinnon and William Blakeley were a pair who filled up with whisky Saturday night and were acting in a disorderly manner. They were breaking windows in the Sebring pottery with their hands and feet when Chief Gill chanced along and picked them up. They spent yesterday in jail.

Charles McGovern was a police victim who imagined that he couldn't be arrested by the whole standing army if he didn't want to go. He was having a glorious time all to himself on the Horn switch, being drunk and decidedly disorderly when Officer Earle arrested him. He pulled a big cheese knife on the officer and said he would waste in blood before he would go. The officer called the patrol and when McGovern became obstreperous he used his mace with telling effect. McGovern also spent Sunday in jail and was fined.

McKinnon, Blakeley and McGovern all owe old fines and will go to the workhouse unless the entire amount is paid.

Freeman French is a man who formerly lived in the Ainsley building on Second street, the dangerous structure which was condemned. While there he was not unnoticed by the officers, who were aware that he had a wife and several children near Negley who were in an almost destitute condition. Saturday night he was seen in company with a woman whose reputation is shady. Yesterday J. S. Teenan placed a charge of disorderly conduct against him, claiming that he had annoyed him on Friday night last, so Chief Gill arrested him in the afternoon. Later Teenan wanted to withdraw the charge. He was ordered to pay the costs and went out to raise the money. When French was released this morning a well known character came to city hall and while in the mayor's office kissed him.

When Mayor Gilbert summoned up the evidence against the crowd at city hall this morning he fined Blakeley $25 and costs and McKinnon drew the same prize. McGovern was fortunate enough to draw an equally valuable token, but French raised the amount of costs and was released.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

A Tramp Who Begged Literature Instead of Bread.

A tramp who begged old novels and story papers instead of bread was a novelty in the city this morning. He was not as pretty as some men nor were his clothes in the latest style, but he had evidently been a gentleman one day, for he begged novels and story papers, finally acknowledging that he was on the road and wanted something with which to pass the hours. He was well received at several houses on Second street where he called, and carried away enough literature to pass an hour or two.

KICKED IN THE STOMACH.

A Small Boy Got to Close to a Mischievous Horse.

The nine-year-old son of John Owen, a kilnman employed at the Croxall pottery and living on Jefferson street, was playing on Fourth street on Saturday evening when the wagon of John Newell from over the river stopped at the curb. Young Owen was accompanied by a number of other lads, and in their play they came too close to one of the horses. It raised its front foot, and struck Owens in the stomach. He fell as if he had been hit with a bullet, but was soon cared for by his friends. A cut extending across the stomach and a bruise or two make up his injuries, and he will soon be well.

NOT SO CLOSE.

Some People Claim They Bought Cigars on Sunday.

The second Sunday under the new closing order was much the same as the first with the possible exception that those who could be trusted were able to buy cigars and tobacco whenever they presented the price. At one restaurant the rule was rigidly enforced, and a customer who wanted to smoke remained at the place until after midnight in order that he might buy a cigar. As a rule the order was obeyed, and the instances where it was broken were few and entailed no extra Sunday labor upon the men who conducted the business.

FIELD DAY.

Y. M. C. A. Boys are Having a Big Time at the Park.

The association boys are blessed with fine weather for their tri-state field day and the crowd at Columbian park this afternoon are seeing some great sport.

All the east bound cars were well filled from 2 o'clock until 4 and many went in carriages or on bicycles. The program is all that could be asked for the price of admission.

Pitcher Mercer in Town.

Winnie Mercer's club played at Pittsburg Saturday and the clever pitcher took a run down to see his friends. Winnie is in good form just now and is showing the base ball people some swift work. He returned to the senators today.

Mercer will in all probability spend the winter in California, where four clubs made up of league players will play a schedule of games lasting over the most severe months. Mercer expects to spend a pleasant winter, and do something in the way of pitching.

Tommy Humphries' Scheme.

Tommy Humphries has evolved a scheme to get rich without sweating copiously at the brow. He is endeavoring to secure a stall at Columbian park this afternoon, so he can exhibit what will be known as "Humphries' Happy Family," or "The Wonders of the World." The afore-said wonders consist of a black horse, a black cat, a red rooster, a fox dog and Tommy himself, who will pose as a man who "has seen a bit of the world in his time." The rake off for Tommy will be 10 cents per head.

Waiting For a Rise.

Captain Christian and his men are still at work on the rocks down the river, and every day sees some big ones blown to pieces. The captain is anxiously waiting for a rise in the river in order to get the snag boat to where it is needed, but he expects no boating stage until after the autumnal equinox. If it is a small rise he will go down stream so he will not be caught again, but if there is a good stage the boat will go to Pittsburg.

Patronizing Wellsville.

A Wellsville business man said yesterday that since the order closing ice cream and cigar stands became operative in Liverpool his trade had dwindled to insignificance when compared with what he sold to Liverpool people who came there to buy. One local man went to Wellsville for a glass of milk yesterday because he could not buy it here without buying something to eat.

Gone to Columbus.

Miss Minnie Young and Miss Emma Green went to Columbus this morning, where they will take up positions as teachers in the deaf and dumb institution.

Remus Shenkle left this morning for Columbus, where he begins the second year of the ceramic course. The innovation has proved a decided success, and an increased number of students are expected this year.

A Woman Editor.

Mrs. George Poffinger returned to Mount Pleasant, W. Va., on Saturday after a visit at the residence of G. W. Allison, on Fifth street. The lady bears the proud distinction of being an editor, her paper, the State Gazette, being a weekly containing general news. She is the only woman editor in the state.

ONLY A SMALL THOUGHT

Judge Billingsley Simply Has a Conviction.

HE MAY NOT RETIRE AT ALL

He Thinks the Law Business of the Firm Will Go Down When Hon. R. W. Taylor Goes to Congress if There is No One There to Care For It.

Special to the News Review.

LISBON, Sept. 9.—The report from Liverpool that Judge Billingsley was thinking of retiring from the common pleas bench when Hon. R. W. Taylor moved to Washington, in order to look after the law business of the concern, caused some stir at the county seat, and a smile from the judge when approached by your correspondent.

"This thing is nothing more than a conviction at present," said the judge, "and I do not know what will grow out of it. When Mr. Taylor leaves for Washington, there will be no one to look after the law practice of the firm, and I, naturally, am opposed to seeing it suffer. Now that is all there is to it at present, and I really have reached no decision. I will sit on the bench during the coming term of court, and perhaps in many terms to come."

SUED HIS OLD FATHER.

A Lisbon Man Who Charges His Parent Board.

Special to the News Review.

LISBON, Sept. 9.—A suit was filed in court this morning in which a son sues his father for board and lodging. The plaintiff is Edward Snyder, and he wants $249 for 83 weeks board and medical attendance from his father, William Snyder. He claims that his father is an aged man making his home with him, and agreed to pay a reasonable price for board. The son also asks $9.55 for taxes he paid on land owned by his father.

J. M. Freeman Dead.

Word has been received here that J. M. Freeman, secretary of a coal company at Bicknell, Ind., was dead at that place, leaving a wife and family to mourn his loss. His mother, Mrs. Freeman, is a resident of this city where the deceased was well known. He was a young man of excellent character, fine business ability, and a Mason of high degree. Although he had lived in Bicknell but a short time his funeral was among the largest ever seen in the town.

A Camp of Tramps.

A large party of tramps occupied a pleasant spot on the river shore in the West End this morning, a big fire having been built to keep them warm. There they were snoring and making coffee, and were as hard a looking lot as could be found in a day's travel.

Some Social Events.

Miss Flo Cartwright will entertain the Flabbergasters tomorrow evening at her home on Sixth street. The Phoenix club will entertain by a dancing party at Columbian park on Thursday evening. A large number of invitations will be issued.

A Long Trip.

John Porter left this morning for a trip through the central part of the state on his wheel, and expects to wind up at Louisville. He goes to Bellaire, and taking the pike at that point expects to find good roads to Cincinnati.

Soon to Marry.

Albert Louton and Mrs. Mary Podmore, of this city, were granted a license to marry at Lisbon today. They reside in this city. William Jackson and Miss Bertha Greenmeyer, of Salem, drew similar prizes.

More Extinguishers.

Mr. Barnes, the agent of the fire extinguisher company, who have extinguishers in the new school building, was in town on Saturday arranging for the placing of six more in the building.

Back to the Old Home.

W. H. Craven, who was at one time a mail carrier here, but for the last two years has been living in Leontonia, returned here with his family today where they will reside.

Soon to Wed.

Rumor has it that an East End couple will soon unite in the bonds of matrimony. Both are popular young people who will start out in life with many well wishes.

May be Postponed.

The case of Robert Weiner versus Wilson and Gaston for $84.12 is booked for trial in Squire Rose's court this afternoon but will probably be postponed.

Don't let the project to form a permanent Republican club stop.
Keep the ball rolling and get the organization on a sound basis.

If President Cleveland can be brought to realize the importance of raising the tariff, and thus prevent another issue of bonds, pottery will get its share of the benefit.

It is presumed that the anglo-maniacs were so downcast and sorrowful when the news came in from the yacht race that they forgot to inquire if it was "waining in Lannon" before rolling up their trousers.

The Republicans will rip the campaign wide open at Springfield tomorrow, and to the tune of a hundred bands and the shouting of thousands of enthusiasts, the next governor of Ohio will be given a reception of which any man should be proud.

She's only a cup, a big silver cup,
but she came from over the sea. We won her fair, we won with ease, and will keep her as safe as can be. The Britisher built a pretty ship, and to this country sent her, but we have a ship, a real fast ship, and she will surely Defender.

ON A NEW TACK.

Colonel Brice has rubbed against the rough corners of the world so long that he knows a good thing when he sees it, and it is not at all surprising that he should attach some importance to the prohibition end of the coming campaign. In fact it is nonsense to believe that the crafty colonel would make the fight without an effort to poll a heavy vote against liquor, if it can be done without the whisky element of his own party knowing of the plan. For several years the Prohibitionists have not been blessed with millions for use in the various political contests, and their howl has been that they could do nothing against the dollars of the established parties.
Now comes the word from Columbus that Sam Small will be in the fight
this year up to his neck, and this fact, coupled with sly hints from Prohibition leaders, has brought out the suspicion that the party will have money to burn before election day, and the money will come from the New Yorker who wants to represent Ohio in the senate. He knows that the Prohibitionists draw a dozen votes from the Republican party where they draw one from his own serried ranks, and if he can cut down the Republican vote in this way it will pay him to drop a few thousands into the cold water fund. Keep an eye on Calvin. He neither slumbers nor sleeps when he is in a campaign, and no end that money can obtain is beyond his consideration, provided it brings votes to his side.

He is for Calvin S. Brice, and no other, and a man so selfish in his motives, when supported by an indomitable will and a cheek that would shame the brightest brass in the land, is a dangerous enemy.

INVADING THE SOUTH.

100,000 Union Veterans, Relatives, Etc., Moving Today.

LOUISVILLE THE MAIN POINT.

After the G. A. R. Encampment Is Over
Many Will Visit Southern Battlefields and the Atlanta Exposition—Lawyer and Staff Reached Louisville This Morning.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 9.—More than 100-000 Union veterans, their wives and friends, are making a forward movement from the northern states today
for the purpose of invading Kentucky, Tennessee and Georgia. But it will be a peaceful invasion and the movement south will be made by invitation of the citizens of many southern states,
the most earnest being ex-Confederate veterans. Chief among these are most of the surviving generals. General
John B. Gordon of Georgia, General
Simon B. Buckner, to whom General Grant delivered his famous message early in the war at Fort Donaldson, in which he said: "I demand an unconditional surrender. I propose to move upon your works." Colonel Henry Waterson and others equally prominent urged the boys in blue to become their guests this week.

While the great mass of northern people will not go south of this city, but will confine their excursion to this city in order to spend Grand Army week there during the progress of the convention, the Sons of Veterans will visit East Tennessee, around Knoxville,

THOMAS G. LAWLER.

where the national encampment in the field will be held next week. Many thousands of men who fought under the shadow of Lookout mountain and at Chickamauga, and in all the battles down from Dalton to Atlanta, will revisit the old battlefields. Still others will wish to see the progress that has been made in science and in the industrial pursuits of the south during the past thirty years, as exemplified in the Atlanta exposition.

The city of Louisville will present to Commander-in-Chief Lawler of the G.
A. R., and Francis B. Allen, rear admiral commanding the Naval Veterans' association, a handsome gilt key, as a souvenir of the encampment, and also as a token that the city is theirs. They will be presented by Mayor Henry S.
Tyler.

Colonel Sherley and the members of the executive committee will be secured at the home of Colonel Sherley
this evening by the First Regiment band of Cincinnati. There will be an informal spread afterward, and a few speeches will be made.
Commander-in-Chief Lawler arrived this morning. He was accompanied by his staff and Columbia post of Chicago, as a special escort. The board of managers of the citizens' committee met him at the station with a detachment of the Louisville Legion, a drum corps and all the G. A. R. posts of Louisville. The national headquarters at the Galt House, where General Lawler was escorted from the train, are beautifully decorated.
The blue parlor will be the special headquarters of the Ladies' G. A. R.

Killed an Ex-Policeman.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Sept. 9.—A mysterious murder has occurred in this city.
Jacob Kiser, an ex-policeman, in company with two companions, was going home and seeing a man lying at the side of the walk in an apparently drunken condition he aroused him and informed him that he had better get up or the patrol wagon would take him.
The fellow jumped up and drawing a revolver shot Kiser, who expired immediately.

TOO SLOW FOR HERBERT.

The Secretary Orders More Speed on New Naval Vessels Being Built.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—"Yes," said Secretary Herbert. "It is true that I have given orders that work on vessels under construction for the navy shall be expedited. The order embraces not only the work on navy ships, but also the work on vessels being built under contract. All have been urged to increased diligence."

Continuing, the secretary said: "The ships building in the navy yards have been lagging for years. For a long time the delay was for want of armor,
but armor is now being furnished promptly. The Texas and the Maine, the former of which has just been put in commission, and the latter of which will be in a few days, really ought to have been in service months ago. Officials at navy yards naturally desire to keep a regular force steadily employed, and the disposition is to take workmen
from the ships that are building and do repair work with them, putting them back when the repair work is completed. Not only have the Texas and Maine been delayed by this practice, but also the monitors, the Terror, the Monadnock and the Puritan. All these ships ought to be now in commission and I have ordered that they be pushed to completion. Precisely the same reasons which have operated to delay the building of ships at navy yards naturally influences contractors. They are some times tempted to neglect government work and use part of the force on the government ships to do outside work, as it comes in."

In conclusion, Mr. Herbert said:
"There is really nothing about shipbuilding that now renders it difficult in the United States. We have already shown that we can build ships and guns equal to any in the world."
The secretary also said that he was pushing along the manufacture of ornance and all other work in progress
under his direction.

Fatal Coaching Accident.

CLIFTON, N. Y., Sept. 9.—A coaching party from New York belonging to the Timothy J. Foley club, met with a serious accident here. The coach was upturned and the entire party precipitated into the street. Thirty men, women and children had been on top of the vehicle and many more inside.
All were more or less injured. One boy, named John Lynch, 15 years old,
of New York city, was killed.

Serious Charges Against Them.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 9.—Z. P.
Carder and Joseph Staats were arrested by Deputy United States marshals and brought to this city and jailed on the charge of detaining United States mails. Carder and Staats are the men who were arrested a few days since, charged with burning Portland station
and ticket office on the Ohio River railroad, and with wrecking a heavy freight train.

Shot His Wife and Killed Himself.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 9.—At Ottawa Beach, Jacob Van Ry, owner and captain of the little schooner There Sisters, which runs on Black lake, shot his wife three times, then turned the pistol upon himself, sending a bullet into his brain. The man died instantly, but the woman may recover. Jealousy on the part of the husband is the supposed cause of the tragedy.

Enticed From Home and Killed.

HUTSON, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Near Hillsdale village, Columbia county, James B. DeGroot, 74 years old, was enticed from his farmhouse by a shiftless fellow named Morgan Grover and his skull crushed in with a bar of iron.
Mrs. DeGroot went in search of her husband soon afterward and found him dead on the roadside near the house.
Grover was arrested.

Bullfights May Proceed.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—A Paris correspondent says that the minister of the interior, intimidated by the violence of

GREAT IS DEFENDER.

The British Yacht Easily De-

A BLACK GOAT AS A MASCOT

Secured by Lord Dunraven For His Next Race—Pins His Faith to the Animal and Expects Better Results—Both Vessels Being Remeasured.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The American yacht Defender, winner of Saturday's race, and the defeated British Valkyrie III, challenger for the American cup, have both been docked at the Erie basin and remeasured for the future races. This proceeding is agitating the public to a lively extent, but the members of the regatta committee of the New York Yacht club refused to say whether the previous measurement, by which the Defender was given a slight advantage, was wrong or not.

The official time, as corrected, states that the Defender finished 8 minutes, 49-10 seconds ahead of the Valkyrie, and this in weather favorable to the British boat.

If Valkyrie accomplished nothing else while in the basin she got back her black goat mascot. This worthy animal is the property of Dick Burke, the wideawake watchman of the dock.
Burke loaned the goat to Captain Cran-field when the Valkyrie was first dry-docked, but on Tuesday last, when the yacht returned to the Robins yard, she determined to leave the vessel and return to her duties on the dock. Burke was very glad to see her again, for he places high value on her worth as a mascot, as the following will show:
"Five months ago," said Dick to a reporter, "that goat came to me, with and I were just then taking care of three of our boys who were very sick with the measles. My wife said she would look out for the creature for a time, anyway, and we did take care of her. Would you believe that from that moment our youngsters began to pick up, and it was only a short time until they were all well, and eating as much as ever."

Burke saw Lord Dunraven on the City of Bridgeport, Valkyrie's tender, and had quite a conversation with his lordship. The goat question was referred to jestingly by Valkyrie's commander and seriously by Dick Burke.
At any rate, before the City of Bridgeport left the dock one of the crew steered up alongside of Burke at the gate and made known the lord's desire to have the goat on his yacht during a race. Burke consented, but the three young ladies who were clustered about the father wore long faces when their pet was taken away.

"My wife will never forgive me if they do any harm to her," said Dick Burke, as his mascot was led aboard
the Bridgeport.

Caution about the Use and Selection of Spectacles

"Persons having normal vision will be able to read this print at a distance of 10 inches from the eye with ease and comfort. Also will be able to read it with ease and comfort. If unable to do so, your eyes are defective and you need spectacles. When the eye is defective, the light entering it is not correctly focused on the retina, and the result is blurring and distortion of vision. If the letters look blurred and run together, it is a sure indication that the vision is defective. The sooner you get the correct kind of spectacles, the better will be the result. Continued use of defective spectacles will result in permanent injury to the vision. Consult one of our opticians to supply the defect in the eye."

A MICHIGAN HORROR.

Forty Persons Imprisoned In the Osceola Copper Mine.

NO CHANCE TO ESCAPE DEATH.

Brave Men Go to the Rescue, But Are Repulsed by the Smoke and Gas—Many of the Victims Could Have Reached the Surface in Safety.

CALUMET, Mich., Sept. 9.—A mine horror has occurred here. Fire has broken out in the shaft of the Osceola mine, and it is more than probable that 40 men and boys have been burned to death or suffocated.

The fire started in shaft No. 3, which is used to carry miners to the surface from the mine, and when the fire broke out all the men and boys employed in the mine, about 200 in number, made a rush for the shaft in the hope of being taken to the surface. The fire was too rapid for them, however, and the chance of escaping by the shaft was entirely cut off by the flames and smoke.

The majority of the imprisoned miners made a break for a cross cut and in this way managed to reach another shaft from which they were taken to the top. Forty were missing when the roll was called. The men in charge say now that there is not the slightest chance for any of the men now in the mine to escape with their lives. If they are not burned they must have been choked by the dense smoke within a short time after the fire started.

A later dispatch says: Huge volumes of smoke are still issuing forth from the mouths of shafts Nos. 1, 2 and 3, which shows that the awful fire which started in the Osceola copper mine is still raging fiercely, and the bodies of the 40 miners entombed are still lying somewhere below the surface without a doubt dead—suffocated by smoke and gas.

Captain P. Richards, with a gang of seven men, went down the shaft No. 5 and went about 700 feet toward No. 4 shaft, when they had to run and flee for their lives on account of the smoke and gas. It is learned that the place where the fire started was the worst place in the whole mine, and the only place in the mine where fire of any extent could have originated. All could have escaped had they used proper precaution.

Several miners in their flight passed a group of seven or eight who had stopped to rest and were smoking their pipes. They seemed to be in no hurry or think of danger. When told to hurry to the surface they remarked that they had plenty of time, and not one of them reached the outer world. The skips were kept running up and down all day in order to give any of the entombed miners a chance to escape if they could reach the skip alive, but none came up. Another attempt is being made to reach the men.

Out His Throat and Hanged Himself. RED BANK, N. J., Sept. 9.—Walter Montgomery, coachman for Charles A. Willis, the well-known turf writer, has committed suicide at Mr. Willis' country seat, near this place, by cutting his throat with a razor. His employer saw him and immediately hastened to Red Bank for a physician. When Mr. Willis and the doctor arrived at the place they found Montgomery hanging dead from a beam in the barn. Montgomery was 55 years old and unmarried.

Foul Play Suspected.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 9.—Wilson Lavender, 45 years old, a blacksmith of Fearless Run, was run over near Brownstown by a Chesapeake and Ohio train. His head, one arm and a leg were severed from his body and he was otherwise horribly mangled. He leaves a wife and three children. Foul play is suspected, and detectives are working on the case. The engineer on the train says he moved just before the train struck him.

Fatal Head-End Collision.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 9.—A head-end collision occurred on the Cincinnati Southern railway, near Blanchet, between two freight trains, one of them a double-header. Two engines were demolished and the third was badly used up and four freight cars were smashed. John Slosser, the fireman, and James Hendricks, a trainman, were killed and Engineer Roberts was injured perhaps fatally.

Killed For a Reckless Woman.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 9.—Particulars have been received of the killing of Kearn Reagan by Dean Tompkins, just across the Kentucky line, near Livingston. Tompkins is United States commissioner of Clinton county, Ky., and is said to be a desperate character. A woman named Ellington, young, beautiful and reckless, is said to have been the cause of the shooting.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 9.—Miss

Madge Sharp was thrown out of her carriage by her horse running away. Her right ear was torn off and she was taken to the hospital in an unconscious condition. It is probable that injuries to the brain will prove fatal.

DYNAMITE'S TERRIBLE WORK.

A Bullet From a Revolver Causes the Explosion.

DUBUQUE, Ia., Sept. 9.—Edward Latshaw, a sub-contractor on the government work on the Mississippi river, had 600 pounds of dynamite stored away in the cellar of a house at Specht's Ferry, 12 miles north of here. His son, while practicing with a revolver, missed the target, the bullet entering the cellar and firing the dynamite. The house was blown to splinters and the following persons killed:

Edward Latshaw and his wife; Ray Latshaw, 12 years old; Mat Latshaw, 8 years old, all of Victory, Wis.; Hans Bjornstad, of Lacrosse, Wis.

The wounded are: Mat Faber of Wabasha, may die; Ed Bench of Lansing, eye knocked out and badly bruised; Mabel Latshaw, skull fractured.

The dead are terribly mangled. A 4-year-old baby in the party escaped unhurt. All the glass in buildings in the hamlet was broken and boats on the opposite side of the river considerably damaged. A special train from Dubuque took physicians to the scene and brought the wounded to the hospital here.

Rejected His Pension Claim.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The pension appeal of John Godfrey has been rejected by Secretary Reynolds. Godfrey served in Company F, Third Kansas volunteers, which was called into service by the governor of the state. The secretary holds that no person other than the president of the United States has authority to call the militia of any state into the United States service, and a militia organization called into service by any other authority is not thereby in the service of the United States for pensionable purposes.

New York Man to Be Chosen.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The president, it is said, has decided to appoint a New York man justice of the supreme court to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Justice Jackson. The two names foremost in his consideration are Wheeler H. Peckham and William B. Hornblower, whose previous nominations were rejected by the senate. Principally through the hostility of Senator Hill, a third name is also under consideration, that of John B. Moore, now professor of international law in Columbia college.

Thoroughly Overhauled and Repaired.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—In his annual report upon the public buildings and grounds at Washington, Colonel Wilson says that he has thoroughly overhauled and repaired the white house. It was found that the flooring in front of the state dining room, where the crowds are greater during receptions, had become weakened and sunk. The beams were found to be giving way, and these were renewed and strengthened.

Twenty Injured in a Wreck.

CHEROKEE, Kan., Sept. 9.—Further particulars of the wreck of the west-bound passenger train on the Cherokee branch of the Memphis railroad, have been obtained. Twenty persons were more or less hurt. The wreck occurred at Lightning Creek, about a mile west of Monmouth, and was caused by the breaking of an axle on the rear coach. Although the cars were thrown over an embankment no fatalities resulted.

Murdered by His Friend.

DETROIT, Sept. 9.—Richard Ford has died at Grace hospital from the effects of a bullet shot in the abdomen inflicted by James Foster, a blacksmith. The two men were friends, and Ford suspected he was shooting at James Hewley, a stevedore, who had thrashed Foster because the latter charged Hawley with being too friendly with Mrs. Foster. He is under arrest.

Baby McKee a Rescuer.

OLD FORGE, N. Y., Sept. 9.—At Dodd Camp Mrs. Russell B. Harrison's little daughter and Benny and May McKee were playing about the dock at the camp when the Harrison child slipped and fell into the water. Benny McKee saw her fall and ran to her rescue. He held her hand until General Harrison came and rescued his granddaughter.

Convert Killed by a Snake.

PARIS, Tex., Sept. 9.—A huge rattler made its appearance at a campmeeting near here and the death of one of the converts will be the result. Colliers was lying on the ground near the pulpit when the reptile struck him on the hand. In putting the snake away it was thrown into the crowd and created a panic.

Very Generous to a Tramp.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Basil Rough, 115 Grant street, a son.

D. J. Smith is growing better every day, and will soon be able to be about. Council will meet in regular session tomorrow evening, and will have some important matters to consider.

A number of Liverpool people attended the exposition in Pittsburg on Saturday evening, returning on the midnight train.

A row on Jackson street attracted a crowd on Saturday evening, but resulted in nothing more than a prodigious amount of profanity.

David Brown, of Canton, is learning to be a motorman on the electric line. He was formerly a railroad engineer, and will probably make his home in this city.

Reverend Moffat, who preached in the Second United Presbyterian church while Reverend Knox was pastor, filled the same pulpit again yesterday and very acceptably.

The household goods of James E. Orr were shipped to Pittsburg this morning, and the genial theatrical man left for that city this evening. He has a good thing there, and expects to make the continuous performance idea a success.

At a meeting of the glassworkers held on Saturday evening, Joseph Kalkoff was elected president and P. T. Sullivan recording secretary. Rudy Eberling was chosen financial secretary and John Rigot treasurer. George Greene was made trustee.

Several residences along Mulberry street in East End have been raised to suit the grade and the appearance of the thoroughfare will be greatly changed as soon as the work is completed. The need of the promised electric light on Mulberry street was never greater than at present.

"The people who object to the severity of the sentence for Sunday liquor selling dispensed by Mayor Gilbert, should take a lesson from the way they do in Pittsburg," remarked a resident. "Last week one man got $400 fine and 60 days in the workhouse, for what they are fined heresimply $50 and costs."

A meeting of the C. C. C. C. will be held at the club room on Fifth street on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, and it is essential that every member be present. The club has some highly important business to look after, and without a full attendance it can not be considered, as every man's views are wanted.

In connection with the proposed extension of the Wheeling & Lake Erie from Steubenville to Pittsburg, it was learned yesterday that a party of officials drove over the line on the other side of the river last week. They made numerous inquiries about an old survey that had been made there several years ago.

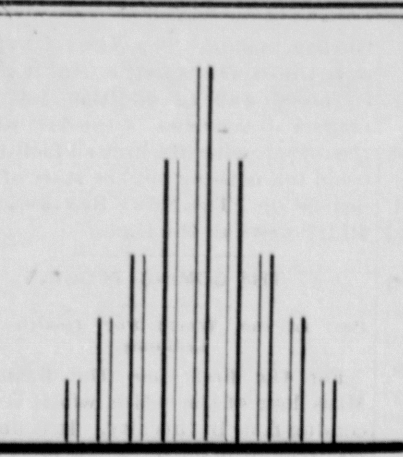

Irontide people fear the tin plant will soon be shut down, and this winter will not be as prosperous as last. The increased price of iron is scaring the tin men out of their wits, and the industry is preparing for a hard blow. They can not increase the price of tin, for then the British will get after them, and they can not make it a profit if iron goes much higher.

The dogs that have been in the habit of fighting on Fourth street have discovered these past few days that the small boy has occupied that portion of the thoroughfare near the school building, and they must go. Every light has brought so many youngsters with hands full of stones, that the canines have learned a valued lesson, and now shun the place as they would a pestilence.

The Columbian base ball club of East End went to Empire Saturday afternoon and defeated the Empire club by a score of 16-14. The battery for East End was Martin, Chambers and Phillips. The Columbians have the promise of a game with the Young Men's Christian association soon. Martin, the pitcher, threw his arm out during the game, and was taken to a doctor, who repaired the damage.

The river is getting lower again, and rivermen are now hoping for a rise in October. The long suspension of navigation is having a good effect on the coming convention in Cincinnati, and the interested parties there are looking for a great attendance. A Liverpool man who knows a thing or two about river work says that slack-watering the Ohio is a big job that will require, with the slow way in which the government does business, at least 20 years.

A good story of Sunday observance was related on the streets last evening. A character succeeded in entering an uptown saloon early in the morning, and imbibing a great quantity of beer during the day was drunk when evening came. At that time he wanted to smoke, and not having a cigar in his pocket he asked the man behind the bar to pass them around. Imagine his surprise and the surprise of others in the saloon when the bartender solemnly said that it was Sunday, and against the law to sell cigars or tobacco.

HOME FROM CAMP.

Company E Arrived on Saturday Afternoon in Good Order.

The afternoon train from the west on Saturday brought home the members of Company E, and a sunburned, weary lot they were as they marched to the armory.

At 5:30 o'clock they were roused from slumber in camp, and ordered to strike their tents and get out as soon possible. All responded to the command with alacrity, and soon all was in readiness but the quarters of the cook. He still slumbered in silence, and the boys gave him a rude awakening. The ropes were silently loosened, and without any previous alarm the tent came crashing down. In a few minutes he too was ready and the company was marched to a side track and there waited until 10 o'clock before they got away. The hours were long, but the merry crowd made the most of their long wait, and contrived to get some enjoyment out of it. John Gilson was leaning too far from the platform and was knocked off by a passing train, but without much hurt to himself, although the boys thought he had been ground to pieces. James Stevenson, Charles Sinclair and Al McIntosh decided that they would extend their vacation, and instead of coming home took another train for St. Louis, where they expected to arrive today. Corporal Thomas Smith left the train at New Cumberland where he is employed, and the rest of the crowd came home. At the station in Newark every blue coat concealed a fluttering heart, for the girls they had met while in camp were there, in order to see them go home. Touching scenes by the score were recorded, and the susceptible soldiers boarded the cars with heavy hearts, that were heavy for a few miles, and then lightened as the distance increased. The transfer was made in peace at Mingo, and the run over the river division was passed over in good time.

The record of the company while in camp was much better than the soldiers had any reason to expect, and they were praised by the colonel for the splendid manner in which they passed through guard mount. The Wooster company, generally credited with being the crack organization of the regiment, was the only one they feared, but it made several bad breaks and our boys won out. When the regular army officer inspected the regiment, he recommended that Company E be given a complete new outfit, including guns, but it is probable that the arms will not come. The uniforms and haversacks, however, will be replaced with something new at once, and an effort will be made to provide the sergeants with Winchester rifles. All the riot guns are old and rusted beyond repair, and it would almost be worth a man's life to fire one of them. On Friday the battalions were ordered out for a sham battle, a portion of Company E being held in reserve, while the others did duty as skirmishers. A sharpshooter from Akron held an outpost and when an effort was made to take him prisoner by a squad, he fired the blank cartridge in his gun. This was a surprise to the attacking party, and they fled as one man—much to the amusement of the regiment and the crowd of spectators. The boys had a good time, worked hard, and came home happy.

The Newark Tribune, in giving the history of the regiment and discussing the merits of the various companies, treats Company E to the compliment that it had been winning enough praise from the regimental officers to turn the heads of less sensible men. The boys felt good over the remark, but true to the line of judgment were able to wear their caps when they came marching home.

FALL AND WINTER OPENING.

Pleasing Announcement to the Ladies of East Liverpool.

Miss M. A. Farrell, the well known and justly popular milliner, doing business at No. 146 Fifth street, East Liverpool, has just returned from the East, where she was in attendance at the millinery openings of some of the finest establishments in the country. Miss Farrell informs us that the patterns and styles to be worn the coming fall are simply exquisite in design and finish, and are sure to please the taste of the most fastidious. With her usual push and energy, backed by her desire to please her patrons, and the public in general, Miss Farrell will place on exhibition, in the near future, on the occasion of her fall and winter opening, a number of the choicest and most beautiful patterns, to the inspection of which she extends a cordial invitation to the ladies of East Liverpool and vicinity. Watch the columns of the News Review for announcement of Miss Farrell's grand fall and winter opening of millinery goods.

Blowing Their Horn.

A local paper devoted some of its space on Saturday to tickling itself under the chin, patting itself on the back, and pointing out what a marvelous thing it had done in reporting

the flag raising. The News Review gave the exercises to the hour it went to press, and in addition told its readers all the news of the day, while the other, with its limited facilities, could tell nothing but the story of the dedication. The News Review gives all the news all the time.

THE COMING FLOUR.

Best in the World For Health and Economy.

For the first time the Franklin Mills flour of the entire wheat is the coming flour in this city. It is unlike white flour, made by a new process.

Facts showing its actual food value. For dyspepsia, indigestion and constipation. A natural and complete phosphatic food.

Superior to all prepared foods. Unequaled for the brain workers. It is food for the muscular workers.

These are not idle statements, but established facts, appreciated when known, to be further appreciated as the flour becomes better known by use. Ask for the Franklin Mills Co. entire Wheat Flour. Only 75c per sack. For sale by Huntsman, the grocer, who will cheerfully furnish all particulars as to its properties and use.

Picnics and Dances.

The Alvin social club gave a dance in their rooms Saturday evening. The Waverly club will dance in Bradshaw hall on Friday evening next.

The Fernleaf social club are holding a picnic and dance at Rock Spring this afternoon and the amusement will continue until 10 o'clock.

Invitations have been received here for a masquerade ball in Beaver Falls on October 4.

The picnic to be given by the Catholic church people tomorrow will have for its amusement a number of races, and among them will be a fat man's race. If fine weather favors the picknickers they will have a great time.

Bit by a Dog.

The valuable dog of Joseph Wilson, of Fifth street, was poisoned this morning, and when the owner was attempting to force open its clenched teeth in order to force an emetic down its throat the animal bit him, its teeth passing through the thumb. In spite of prompt medical aid the member swelled rapidly but it is not thought the result will be serious. His hand was also painfully lacerated.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had bad colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Sixth and West Market street, druggists.

A Money Order.

The play for the Grand this evening is a "Money Order," and will doubtless be seen by a good house. It is a new company and a new play, and to the present time has been very successful. It is a purely comedy drama in four acts, being a story of false love, intrigue and retributive justice. The climax is reached in the third act when the tramp hero escapes from an unjust punishment.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Young Men's Christian association, Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocation; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one-half the time usually required. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Sixth and West Market streets, druggists.

A Rise in Leather.

Shoe dealers are much wrought up over the advance in the price of leather, forced on the public by the autocratic trust. Sole leather is the chief article affected, and it is estimated that the advance means from 50 to 75 cents on a pair of shoes over the old prices.

A. M. Bailey, a well known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea remedy, which has cured her sound and well. Give it a trial and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Sixth and West Market streets, druggists.

Lightning Hot Drops—What a Funny Name!
Very True, but it Kills All Pain.
Sold Everywhere. Every Day—Without Relief, There is No Pain!

Ripans Tabules purify the blood. Ripans Tabules cure colic.

WANTED—GOOD GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. Apply at 297 Fifth street.

One that you can keep clean all the time—a collar that does not wilt when you get over-heated; that does not fray on the edge, or tear out at the buttonholes, and can be cleaned by simply wiping off with a wet sponge or cloth. These collars and cuffs are made by covering linen collars or cuffs on both sides with waterproof "celluloid," thus giving strength and durability. They are the only waterproof goods so made, and every piece is stamped as follows:

Ask for this, and refuse to take any imitation if you expect satisfaction. If your dealer does not keep them, send direct to us, enclosing amount, and we will mail you sample. Collars 25 cts. each. Cuffs 50 cts. pair. State size, and whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

Domestic Architecture in Chicago.

The inhabitants of Chicago are the least curious and observing people in the world. According to their own newspapers, they permitted one H. H. Holmes to construct in their city a house so extraordinary, so full of hidden doors and secret passages and acid proof vats that it would have attracted thousands of curious visitors had it been built anywhere else. But the guileless Chicagoans suspect nothing. Neither the men who issued the building permit nor the men who did the building saw anything unusual about the house. What is the matter? Is all Chicago blind, or are acid proof vats and secret passages part and parcel of the ordinary Chicago dwelling? Perhaps there is an interesting chapter to be written about domestic architecture in Chicago. —Milwaukee Sentinel.

Sitting the Action.

"Jamie," sharply called out his mother, "you've been loafing all day. Satan always finds some work for idle hands to do. Take this basket and bring in some kindling." —Chicago Tribune.

The fool is always dead sure that his own way of doing things is the best, if not the only way, but the wise man wonders if there isn't a better way than the one he has adopted.

OVER $16,000 STOLEN.

The Adams Express Office at Terre Haute, Ind., The Loser.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 9.—The discovery that Adams Express office at Terre Haute, Ind., has been robbed of a package containing $16,000, and possibly more, has caused a great sensation. J. D. Farden, the cashier of the company, and J. M. Barnett, city ticket agent of the Vandalia line, cannot be found. They are supposed to have left the city and the police are unable to find any trace of either of them.

The safe was locked by Farden and could not be opened, as only he himself knew the combination. Local Agent Davidson and Superintendent of Police Meagher called in an expert, who is at work on the safe. The express office is closed pending investigation. The Vandalia city ticket agency and the Adams Express office are in the same room. The $16,000 package was one delivered for shipment to the Cincinnati sub-treasury by Internal Revenue Collector Joshua Jump.

General Michael Ryan, sub-treasurer here, was seen by a reporter at his residence. He said he knew nothing either of the shipment or the loss of the money. It is not compulsory for parties forwarding money to mail a notice thereof, but it is left to the discretion of the sender. He said that it was a little unusual that the money should be sent by the Adams, as all business is generally transacted through the United States Express company, the government having entered into a contract with it. Mr. Fogg of the Adams Express company is in New York and the other officials said they had no details.

Fell From a Church Steeple.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 9.—Charles Freund, a steeple carpenter in the employ of Contractor M. J. Malone, fell from the top of St. Patrick's church, where he was working, and was dashed upon the pavement 130 feet below. He was an old and experienced workman, and none of the scaffolding was disturbed. How he happened to lose his footing cannot be told. He was heard to cry, "Oh, my God!" as he started downward, his body revolving like a wheel until he landed, a bleeding, bruised and shapeless mass, near the entrance of the church.

Struck His Aged Mother.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., Sept. 9.—Jacob Seebach, who represents the First ward in the city council, was arrested on a warrant issued by his aged mother, alleging that he knocked her down. He pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs and sentenced five days in jail, but the sentence was suspended on promise of good behavior. Mrs. Seebach is aged 70 years, and the councilman's assault upon her has stirred up intense indignation.

Octogenarian in Trouble.

BLANCHET, O., Sept. 9.—Henry Exman, farmer, has been arrested in Warren county, charged with assaulting Katie Gunion, aged 14. Exman is nearly 80 years of age and is married. Miss Gunion is the daughter of Jacob Gunion, an engineer in a soap factory at Ivorydale. She has made her home with her grandparents at Osceola.

Polish Convention at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 9.—About 300 delegates are in the city to attend the annual convention of the Polish National Alliance of America, which assembles here. The delegates attended mass at St. Stanislaus' church, after which they were tendered a reception. They then visited Garfield's tomb in Lake View cemetery.

Forester Delegates Arriving.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 9.—Delegates are beginning to arrive to attend the meeting of the supreme court of the Independent Order of Ancient Foresters of America, which begins on Tuesday. It is said the meeting will be the most important ever held, and delegates will be present from all parts of the country.

Everything Will Be Open.

YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 9.—It has been decided to run everything at the track wide open. The beer hall has been opened and privileges sold to all who wanted to sell anything on the fair grounds. The public evidently prefers an American fair to the kind the anti-Saloon League wants to run.

DUNRAVEN AS A DESIGNER.

The Twenty Rater Audrey, Which Is the Product of His Skill.

Whatever Lord Dunraven, the famous owner of Valkyrie III, does he does well. He was a good soldier, a successful war correspondent and a noted politician. He is also a thorough yachtsman. He not only understands the sailing of a yacht, but he can design and build a fast one when the whim seizes him. He has mastered both seamanship and navigation and has passed an examination before the British board of trade, which makes him a sailing master, invested with legal authority to take charge of a ship. He has turned out a first class boat, that has repeatedly beaten one of the same class, designed by George L. Watson, the creator of the Valkyrie, for the emperor of Germany.

The Audrey is the name of the boat which owes her existence to Lord Dunraven's own talent and ingenuity. She belongs to what in England is termed the 20 rater class—that is to say, her sail area, multiplied by her water line length and divided by 6,000, closely approximates 20. She is about 46 feet on the water line, or about the same length as the Gloriana and the Wasp, the boats which first made her

Henry Irving and His "Sir."

The question is put, Was it a good thing, after all, for Henry Irving, to go knighted? The general impression abroad is that it has acted as a boomerang upon him. Formerly he was "Our Henry" with the Lyceum pit, but now he is a "blest aristocrat." The great mass of the population of England does not look up to nobility as do our own Anglomaniacs.

SEARCH FOR A SISTER

Richard Leggett, of Chester, Pa., Was Here Yesterday.

THEY LIVED IN IRELAND

He Came to America to Join the Union Army, and Sarah Brown, Who Was His Foster Sister, Came to Columbiana County to Live—She is Married and He Does Not Know Her Name.

Among the people who arrived in the city late on Saturday night was a man in search of his sister, and all of yesterday he sought her but without avail, and was compelled to continue his journey without learning her whereabouts.

Thirty-five years ago there lived in the county of Tyrone, Ireland, a farmer who was known to his friends as George Leggett. He was an industrious, hard working man, and through a long and useful life had accumulated what was considered by his friends a comfortable fortune. In his family was a son bearing the name of Richard, who, chafing under the strict rule of life in Ireland and constantly hearing so much of the American war then in progress, decided to cross the ocean. He at once enlisted and after serving on the Union side with honor to himself, settled at Chester, Pa. In the same family was Sarah Brown, who had been adopted by the Leggetts, and several years after Richard came here she followed, coming to Columbiana county. The brother in Pennsylvania heard of her being here, but the cares of life pressing upon him he gradually lost sight of her; but recently he decided to attend the encampment at Louisville, and stopping here on the way endeavor to find her. Sarah Brown, the young girl he knew so well in Ireland, is now married and living in this vicinity probably between Smith's Ferry and Wellsville, and is about 60 years of age. Leggett does not know her name, but is very anxious to see her. He went to Louisville this morning, but will return here on Thursday, and any information that is left at this office will be thankfully received by him. He does not know the name of the man to whom she was married, but still hopes that she can be found.

WAR AT WALKER.

Hostilities Saturday and Sunday, but Quiet Today.

The Ohio Valley Gas company attempted to take up their pipe on the premises of N. U. Walker Saturday, and met with a resistance of no ordinary variety. Mr. Walker did not appeal to the law for an injunction but had his man on the ground in full force and the work was stopped. Yesterday the same thing was repeated. The company's men appeared ready to start again on the work of tearing up the pipes, but were met by a large force of Walker's men and did not attempt to start.

A riot was expected today as it was announced that the men would come together again, but a telephone message to Walker brings the information that the gas men did not show up.

Mr. Corcoran, of the Ohio Valley company, could not be seen this afternoon, and a message from the office said they "didn't know anything about it." It is understood that Mr. Walker claims the ownership of the pipe, and will allow it removed if an acknowledgement is made by the Ohio Valley people.

BEST IN THE WORLD.

What a Pittsburg Department Store Thinks of Liverpool Ware.

A representative of the News Review, in conversation with a crockery buyer connected with one of the largest department stores in Pittsburg, learned on Saturday night that they like Liverpool ware.

"You make in Liverpool the best white granite in the world," he said, as he pointed to a large stock from several potteries, "and we are only too glad to buy it when the price is so low we can sell it in competition with English ware. Last spring we didn't buy from Liverpool, because we couldn't afford to do it, but they have the price down now, and we buy all we can handle. It is good ware, and sells better than any English ware of its grade we have in stock."

CLEAN THEM OUT.

A Citizen Tells of Some Disease Breeding Places.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—Our sanitary authorities should take a jaunt of investigation along the river front and collide with a few of the out-houses in connection with the potteries. These places are bad enough in cold weather, but during the present heated season and while the river is down to a mere creek they are almost unbearable. The stench arising as street cars pass them is something awful. That workmen in the potteries are compelled to endure it is not right. The carcass of some dead animal near the freight depot also makes street car passengers hold handkerchiefs to their noses as they pass by.

CITIZEN.

TOOK HIS TICKER.

Bado Hague Was Robbed By Some One.

Bado Hague was robbed while standing near the corner of Washington and Sixth streets on Saturday night, and now mourns the loss of his gold watch. He entered the office of the Hotel Grand, and there took the timepiece from his pocket. From there he walked into the street, and in a few minutes, having occasion to look at the watch, found it was gone. He was greatly excited, and wanted the police to search all the people in that part of town.

The police learned yesterday that Hague was under the influence of liquor when he lost his watch, and it had been taken from him by some of his friends. It had not been returned this morning, but the authorities think it will appear in due time.

WIDELY SCATTERED

Are the Members of T. O. Timmons' Regiment, but They Meet This Week.

Among the veterans who went to Louisville, none rode away with a lighter heart than T. O. Timmons, for he will soon be shaking hands with the grizzled old soldiers who made up the First California cavalry, one of the noted regiments of the war. They fought whenever there was a chance to fight, and were celebrated for being hard workers when in the field. They are scattered all over the country, and never meet, except at the national encampment. In Pittsburg last year one veteran from Maine was shaking hands with another from the Sandwich Islands, while members of the regiment now living in seven different states looked on with pleasure.

FOOLED THE SQUIRE.

He Wanted an Attachment, but the Other Man Was Cute.

The household goods of Doc Ritz, a potter, were shipped to Wheeling today, but not before a little byplay which caused one man discomfort. Squire James McCormick had a bill for rent against Ritz, and wanted an attachment on the effects, but the debtor had anticipated the move, and although he was going to Wheeling, had the goods billed to Bridgeport. That town being in the state exempts them from execution. Ritz claims he will not pay the rent because the squire refused to allow a stove put up in one room of the house, and in consequence a child became ill and the doctor bill amounted to more than the rent.

ANOTHER HORSE

Sent to the Happy Hunting Grounds Yesterday.

Since the compulsory shooting of the horse last week by a Humane officer, the society had no cases until yesterday when a call came from the Lisbon road.

Humane Officer Lloyd responded and found an old horse about to pass in its checks on the banks of the future horse land. He assisted the suffering brute in its departure by a well aimed bullet.

The horse was found near the residence of William Fisher, but the name of its owner was not learned. The Humane society is hunting for the man who left the horse there, and will prosecute him.

GONE TO LOUISVILLE.

Liverpool Sent a Good Delegation Today.

The special which carried Grand Army men and their friends to Louisville this morning, took 22 people on the nine train. Among those in the party were W. H. Surles and wife, Mrs. John Willie, T. O. Timmons, Will Gardner, R. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. A. Shenkle, Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Ralston and E. N. Huntsman. The party will arrive in Louisville this evening, having passed across Ohio and through a portion of Indiana, and will return the end of the week.

OVERCOME WITH HEAT.

Howard Davis Fainted in a Kilnshed Today.

Howard Davis, a kilnhand at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery, was a victim of the heat today.

He was going about his work as usual when he fell senseless on the kilnshed floor. He was carried into open air and Doctor Clark summoned. This afternoon Davis is recovering and his condition is not considered serious by the attending physician.

ONE GRUDGE SETTLED

Kiln Boss and Kiln Hand In a Street Brawl.

A MAN WITH A CHEESE KNIFE

Makes Matters Interesting For Officer Earle—Three Men Who Were Drunk and Disorderly and Saw the Jail Saturday Night—Police Court News.

Police court had a rush of business Saturday night that enlivened matters at city hall to an appreciable extent.

The most serious trouble demanding the attention of the officers was a setto between William Allen and Thomas May. Allen is boss kilnman at the Knowles pottery and May, who was formerly a kiln hand at the same place, is now engaged at the Union pottery. There was an old grudge between the pair, so when they came together in front of Moore & McGhie's place of business on Sixth street Saturday night about 9:30, they tried to settle it. Which was the aggressor is hard to determine, as two blows were struck and neither seemed to be the quicker. Both men went to the pavement at the same time, and each has a black eye and the skin is broken just above both optics. The flow of gore was accordingly small. May was taken to Davidson's billiard parlor to wash his face, while Officer Jennings arrested Allen and took him to city hall. He left security for his appearance today and was allowed to depart. There is a charge of fighting against him and he placed a charge of assault and battery against May. The affair caused considerable excitement and was the talk of the town yesterday, as both men are well known.

Orville McKinnon and William Blakeley were a pair who filled up with whisky Saturday night and were acting in a disorderly manner. They were breaking windows in the Sebring pottery with their hands and feet when Chief Gill chanced along and picked them up. They spent yesterday in jail.

Charles McGovern was a police victim who imagined that he couldn't be arrested by the whole standing army if he didn't want to go. He was having a glorious time all to himself on the Horn switch, being drunk and decidedly disorderly when Officer Earle arrested him. He pulled a big cheese knife on the officer and said he would waste in blood before he would go. The officer called the patrol and when McGovern became obstreperous he used his mace with telling effect. McGovern also spent Sunday in jail and was fined.

McKinnon, Blakeley and McGovern all owe old fines and will go to the workhouse unless the entire amount is paid.

Freeman French is a man who formerly lived in the Ainsley building on Second street, the dangerous structure which was condemned. While there he was not noticed by the officers, who were aware that he had a wife and several children near Negley who were in an almost destitute condition. Saturday night he was seen in company with a woman whose reputation is shady. Yesterday J. S. Teenan placed a charge of disorderly conduct against him, claiming that he had annoyed him on Friday night last, so Chief Gill arrested him in the afternoon. Later Teenan wanted to withdraw the charge. He was ordered to pay the costs and went out to raise the money. When French was released this morning a well known character came to city hall and while in the mayor's office kissed him.

When Mayor Gilbert summoned up the evidence against the crowd at city hall this morning he fined Blakeley $25 and costs and McKinnon drew the same prize. McGovern was fortunate enough to draw an equally valuable token, but French raised the amount of costs and was released.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

A Tramp Who Begged Literature Instead of Bread.

A tramp who begged old novels and story papers instead of bread was a novelty in the city this morning. He was not as pretty as some men nor were his clothes in the latest style, but he had evidently been a gentleman one day, for he begged novels and story papers, finally acknowledging that he was on the road and wanted something with which to pass the hours. He was well received at several houses on Second street where he called, and carried away enough literature to pass an hour or two.

KICKED IN THE STOMACH.

A Small Boy Got to Close to a Mischievous Horse.

The nine-year-old son of John Owen, a kilnman employed at the Croxall

pottery and living on Jefferson street, was playing on Fourth street on Saturday evening when the wagon of John Newell from over the river stopped at the curb. Young Owen was accompanied by a number of other lads, and in their play they came too close to one of the horses. It raised its front foot, and struck Owen in the stomach. He fell as if he had been hit with a bullet, but was soon cared for by his friends. A cut extending across the stomach and a bruise or two make up his injuries, and he will soon be well.

NOT SO CLOSE.

Some People Claim They Bought Cigars on Sunday.

The second Sunday under the new closing order was much the same as the first with the possible exception that those who could be trusted were able to buy cigars and tobacco whenever they presented the price. At one restaurant the rule was rigidly enforced, and a customer who wanted to smoke remained at the place until after midnight in order that he might buy a cigar. As a rule the order was obeyed, and the instances where it was broken were few and entailed no extra Sunday labor upon the men who conducted the business.

FIELD DAY.

Y. M. C. A. Boys are Having a Big Time at the Park.

The association boys are blessed with fine weather for their tri-state field day and the crowd at Columbian park this afternoon are seeing some real sport.

All the east bound cars were well filled from 2 o'clock until 4 and many went in carriages or on bicycles. The program is all that could be asked for the price of admission.

Pitcher Mercer in Town.

Winnie Mercer's club played at Pittsburg Saturday and the clever pitcher took a run down to see his friends. Winnie is in good form just now and is showing the base ball people some swift work. He returned to the senators today.

Mercer will in all probability spend the winter in California, where four clubs made up of league players will play a schedule of games lasting over the most severe months. Mercer expects to spend a pleasant winter, and do something in the way of pitching.

Tommy Humphries' Scheme.

Tommy Humphries has evolved a scheme to get rich without sweating copiously at the brow. He is endeavoring to secure a stall at Columbian park this afternoon, so he can exhibit what will be known as "Humphries' Happy Family," or "The Wonders of the World." The afore-said wonders consist of a black horse, a black cat, a red rooster, a fox dog and Tommy himself, who will pose as a man who "has seen a bit of the world in his time." The rake off for Tommy will be 10 cents per head.

Waiting For a Rise.

Captain Christian and his men are still at work on the rocks down the river, and every day sees some big ones blown to pieces. The captain is anxiously waiting for a rise in the river in order to get the snag boat to where it is needed, but he expects no boating stage until after the autumnal equinox. If it is a small rise he will go down stream so he will not be caught again, but if there is a good stage the boat will go to Pittsburg.

Patronizing Wellsville.

A Wellsville business man said yesterday that since the order closing ice cream and cigar stands became operative in Liverpool his trade had dwindled to insignificance when compared with what he sold to Liverpool people who came there to buy. One local man went to Wellsville for a glass of milk yesterday because he could not buy it here without buying something to eat.

Gone to Columbus.

Miss Minnie Young and Miss Emma Green went to Columbus this morning, where they will take up positions as teachers in the deaf and dumb institution.

Remus Shenkle left this morning for Columbus, where he begins the second year of the ceramic course. The innovation has proved a decided success, and an increased number of students are expected this year.

A Woman Editor.

Mrs. George Poffinger returned to Mount Pleasant, W. Va., on Saturday after a visit at the residence of G. W. Allison, on Fifth street. The lady bears the proud distinction of being an editor, her paper, the State Gazette, being a weekly containing general news. She is the only woman editor in the state.

ONLY A SMALL THOUGHT

Judge Billingsley Simply Has a Conviction.

HE MAY NOT RETIRE AT ALL

He Thinks the Law Business of the Firm Will Go Down When Hon. R. W. Taylor Goes to Congress if There Is No One There to Care For It.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Sept. 9.—The report from Liverpool that Judge Billingsley was thinking of retiring from the common pleas bench when Hon. R. W. Taylor moved to Washington, in order to look after the law business of the concern, caused some stir at the county seat, and a smile from the judge when approached by your correspondent.

"This thing is nothing more than a conviction at present," said the judge, "and I do not know what will grow out of it. When Mr. Taylor leaves for Washington, there will be no one to look after the law practice of the firm, and I, naturally, am opposed to seeing it suffer. Now that is all there is to it at present, and I really have reached no decision. I will sit on the bench during the coming term of court, and perhaps in many terms to come."

SUED HIS OLD FATHER.

A Lisbon Man Who Charges His Parent Board.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Sept. 9.—A suit was filed in court this morning in which a son sues his father for board and lodging. The plaintiff is Edward Snyder, and he wants $249 for 83 weeks board and medical attendance from his father, William Snyder. He claims that his father is an aged man making his home with him, and agreed to pay a reasonable price for board. The son also asks $9.55 for taxes he paid on land owned by his father.

J. M. Freeman Dead.

Word has been received here that J. M. Freeman, secretary of a coal company at Bicknell, Ind., was dead at that place, leaving a wife and family to mourn his loss. His mother, Mrs. Freeman, is a resident of this city where the deceased was well known. He was a young man of excellent character, fine business ability, and a Mason of high degree. Although he had lived in Bicknell but a short time his funeral was among the largest ever seen in the town.

A Camp of Tramps.

A large party of tramps occupied a pleasant spot on the river shore in the West End this morning, a big fire having been built to keep them warm. There they were shaving and making coffee, and were as hard a looking lot as could be found in a day's travel.

Some Social Events.

Miss Flo Cartwright will entertain the Flabbergasters tomorrow evening at her home on Sixth street.

The Phoenix club will entertain by a dancing party at Columbian park on Thursday evening. A large number of invitations will be issued.

A Long Trip.

John Porter left this morning for a trip through the central part of the state on his wheel, and expects to wind up at Louisville. He goes to Bellaire, and taking the pike at that point expects to find good roads to Cincinnati.

Soon to Marry.

Albert Lauton and Mrs. Mary Podmore, of this city, were granted a license to marry at Lisbon today. They reside in this city. William Jackson and Miss Bertha Greenmeyer, of Salem, drew similar prizes.

More Extinguishers.

Mr. Barnes, the agent of the fire extinguisher company, who have extinguishers in the new school building, was in town on Saturday arranging for the placing of six more in the building.

Back to the Old Home.

W. H. Craven, who was at one time a mail carrier here, but for the last two years has been living in Leetonia, returned here with his family today where they will reside.

Soon to Wed.

Rumor has it that an East End couple will soon unite in the bonds of matrimony. Both are popular young people who will start out in life with many well wishes.

May be Postponed.

A MICHIGAN HORROR.

Forty Persons Imprisoned In the Osceola Copper Mine.

NO CHANCE TO ESCAPE DEATH.

Brave Men Go to the Rescue, But Are Repulsed by the Smoke and Gas—Many of the Victims Could Have Reached the Surface in Safety.

CALUMET, Mich., Sept. 9.—A mine horror has occurred here. Fire has broken out in the shaft of the Osceola mine, and it is more than probable that 40 men and boys have been burned to death or suffocated.

The fire started in shaft No. 3, which is used to carry miners to the surface from the mine, and when the fire broke out all the men and boys employed in the mine, about 200 in number, made a rush for the shaft in the hope of being taken to the surface. The fire was too rapid for them, however, and the chance of escaping by the shaft was entirely cut off by the flames and smoke.

The majority of the imprisoned miners made a break for a cross cut and in this way managed to reach another shaft from which they were taken to the top. Forty were missing when the roll was called. The men in charge say now that there is not the slightest chance for any of the men now in the mine to escape with their lives. If they are not burned they must have been choked by the dense smoke within a short time after the fire started.

A later dispatch says: Huge volumes of smoke are still issuing forth from the mouths of shafts Nos. 1, 2 and 3, which shows that the awful fire which started in the Osceola copper mine is still raging fiercely, and the bodies of the 40 miners entombed are still lying somewhere below the surface without a doubt dead—suffocated by smoke and gas.

Captain P. Richards, with a gang of seven men, went down the shaft No. 5 and went about 700 feet toward No. 4 shaft, when they had to run and flee for their lives on account of the smoke and gas. It is learned that the place where the fire started was the worst place in the whole mine, and the only place in the mine where fire of any extent could have originated. All could have escaped had they used proper precaution.

Several miners in their flight passed a group of seven or eight who had stopped to rest and were smoking their pipes. They seemed to be in no hurry or think of danger. When told to hurry to the surface they remarked that they had plenty of time, and not one of them reached the outer world. The skips were kept running up and down all day in order to give any of the entombed miners a chance to escape if they could reach the skip alive, but none came up. Another attempt is being made to reach the men.

Cut His Throat and Hanged Himself.

RED BANK, N. J., Sept. 9.—Walter Montgomery, coachman for Charles A. Willis, the well-known turf writer, has committed suicide at Mr. Willis' country seat, near this place, by cutting his throat with a razor. His employer saw him and immediately hastened to Red Bank for a physician. When Mr. Willis and the doctor arrived at the place they found Montgomery hanging dead from a beam in the barn. Montgomery was 55 years old and unmarried.

Foul Play Suspected.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 9.—William Lavender, 45 years old, a blacksmith of Peerless Run, was run over near Brownstown by a Chesapeake and Ohio train. His head, one arm and one leg were severed from his body and he was otherwise horribly mangled. He leaves a wife and three children. Foul play is suspected, and detectives are working on the case. The engineer on the train says he moved just before the train struck him.

Fatal Head-End Collision.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 9.—A head-end collision occurred on the Cincinnati Southern railway, near Blanchet, between two freight trains, one of them a double-header. Two engines were demolished and the third was badly used up and four freight cars were smashed. John Slusser, the fireman, and James Hedrick, a trainman, were killed and Engineer Roberts was injured perhaps fatally.

Killed for a Reckless Woman.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 9.—Particulars have been received of the killing of Kearn Reagan by Dean Tompkins, just across the Kentucky line, near Livingston. Tompkins is United States commissioner of Clinton county, Ky., and is said to be a desperate character. A woman named Ellington, young, beautiful and reckless, is said to have been the cause of the shooting.

Seriously Injured by a Runaway.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 9.—Miss Midge Sharp was thrown out of her carriage by her horse running away. Her right ear was torn off and she was taken to the hospital in an unconscious condition. It is probable that injuries to the brain will prove fatal.

DYNAMITE'S TERRIBLE WORK.

A Bullet From a Revolver Causes the Explosion.

DUBUQUE, Ia., Sept. 9.—Edward Latshaw, a sub-contractor on the government work on the Mississippi river, had 600 pounds of dynamite stored away in the cellar of a house at Specht's Ferry, 12 miles north of here. His son, while practicing with a revolver, missed the target, the bullet entering the cellar and firing the dynamite. The house was blown to splinters and the following persons killed:

Edward Latshaw and his wife; Ray Latshaw, 12 years old; Mat Latshaw, 8 years old, all of Victory, Wis.; Hans Bjornstad, of Lacrosse, Wis.

The wounded are: Mat Faber of Wabasha, may die; Ed Bench of Lansing, eye knocked out and badly bruised; Mabel Latshaw, skull fractured. The dead are terribly mangled. A 4-year-old baby in the party escaped unhurt. All the glass in buildings in the hamlet was broken and boats on the opposite side of the river considerably damaged. A special train from Dubuque took physicians to the scene and brought the wounded to the hospital here.

Rejected His Pension Claim.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The pension appeal of John Godfrey has been rejected by Secretary Reynolds. Godfrey served in Company F, Third Kansas volunteers, which was called into service by the governor of the state. The secretary holds that no person other than the president of the United States has authority to call the militia of any state into the United States service, and a militia organization called into service by any other authority is not thereby in the service of the United States for pensionable purposes.

New York Man to Be Chosen.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The president, it is said, has decided to appoint a New York man justice of the supreme court to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Justice Jackson. The two names foremost in his consideration are Wheeler H. Peckham and William B. Hornblower, whose previous nominations were rejected by the senate, principally through the hostility of Senator Hill. A third name is also under consideration, that of John B. Moore, now professor of international law in Columbia college.

Thoroughly Overhauled and Repaired.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—In his annual report upon the public buildings and grounds at Washington, Colonel Wilson says that he has thoroughly overhauled and repaired the white house. It was found that the flooring in front of the state dining room, where the crowds are greater during receptions, had become weakened and sunk. The beams were found to be giving way, and these were renewed and strengthened.

Twenty Injured in a Wreck.

CHEROKEE, Kan., Sept. 9.—Further particulars of the wreck of the west-bound passenger train on the Cherokee branch of the Memphis railroad, have been obtained. Twenty persons were more or less hurt. The wreck occurred at Lightning Creek, about a mile west of Monmouth, and was caused by the breaking of an axle on the rear coach. Although the cars were thrown over an embankment no fatalities resulted.

Murdered by His Friend.

DETROIT, Sept. 9.—Richard Ford has died at Grace hospital from the effects of a bullet shot in the abdomen inflicted by James Foster, a blacksmith. The two men were friends, and Ford supposed he was shooting at James Hawley, a stevedore, who had thrashed Foster because the latter charged Hawley with being too friendly with Mrs. Foster. He is under arrest.

Baby McKee a Rescuer.

OLD FORGE, N. Y., Sept. 9.—At Dodd Camp Mrs. Russell B. Harrison's little daughter and Benny and May McKee were playing about the dock at the camp when the Harrison child slipped and fell into the water. Benny McKee saw her fall and ran to her rescue. He held her hand until General Harrison came and rescued his granddaughter.

Convert Killed by a Snake.

PARIS, Tex., Sept. 9.—A huge rattler made its appearance at a campmeeting near here and the death of one of the converts will be the result. Colliers were lying on the ground, near the pulpit when the reptile struck him on the hand. In putting the snake away it was thrown into the crowd and created a panic.

Very Generous to a Tramp.

AKRON, O., Sept. 9.—Mrs. Jacob Weyning of Uniontown gave a tramp a square meal and a pair of her husband's trousers. When her husband arrived home at night he informed her that in one of the pockets was a roll of bills of over $200.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Bazil Rough, 115 Grant street, a son.

D. J. Smith is growing better every day, and will soon be able to be about.

Council will meet in regular session tomorrow evening, and will have some important matters to consider.

A number of Liverpool people attended the exposition in Pittsburg on Saturday evening, returning on the midnight train.

A row on Jackson street attracted a crowd on Saturday evening, but resulted in nothing more than a prodigious amount of profanity.

David Brown, of Canton, is learning to be a motorman on the electric line. He was formerly a railroad engineer, and will probably make his home in this city.

Reverend Moffat, who preached in the Second United Presbyterian church while Reverend Knox was pastor, filled the same pulpit again yesterday and very acceptably.

The household goods of James E. Orr were shipped to Pittsburg this morning, and the genial theatrical man left for that city this evening. He has a good thing there, and expects to make the continuous performance idea a success.

At a meeting of the glassworkers held on Saturday evening, Joseph Kalkoff was elected president and P. T. Sullivan recording secretary. Rudy Eberling was chosen financial secretary and John Rigot treasurer. George Greene was made trustee.

Several residences along Mulberry street in East End have been raised to suit the grade and the appearance of the thoroughfare will be greatly changed as soon as the work is completed. The need of the promised electric light on Mulberry street was never greater than at present.

"The people who object to the severity of the sentence for Sunday liquor selling dispensed by Mayor Gilbert, should take a lesson from the way they do in Pittsburg," remarked a resident. "Last week one man got $100 fine and 60 days in the workhouse, for what they are fined here simply $50 and costs."

A meeting of the C. C. C. C. will be held at the club room on Fifth street on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, and it is essential that every member be present. The club has some highly important business to look after, and without a full attendance it can not be considered, as every man's views are wanted.

In connection with the proposed extension of the Wheeling & Lake Erie from Steubenville to Pittsburg, it was learned yesterday that a party of officials drove over the line on the other side of the river last week. They made numerous inquiries about an old survey that had been made there several years ago.

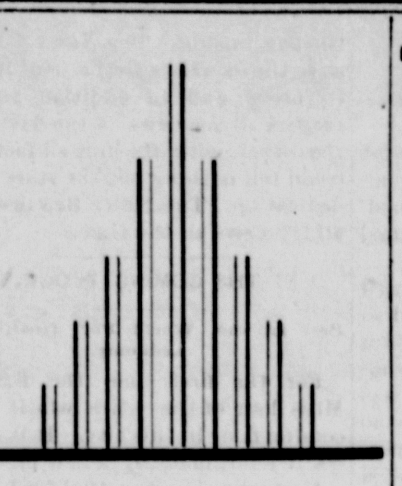

Irontide people fear the tin plant will soon be shut down, and this winter will not be as prosperous as last. The increased price of iron is scaring the tin men out of their wits, and the industry is preparing for a hard blow. They can not increase the price of tin, for then the British will get after them, and they can not make it a profit if iron goes much higher.

The dogs that have been in the habit of fighting on Fourth street have discovered these past few days that the small boy has occupied that portion of the thoroughfare near the school building, and they must go. Every fight has brought so many youngsters with hands full of stones, that the canines have learned a valued lesson, and now shun the place as they would a pestilence.

The Columbian base ball club of East End went to Empire Saturday afternoon and defeated the Empire club by a score of 16-14. The battery for East End was Martin, Chambers and Phillips. The Columbians have the promise of a game with the Young Men's Christian association soon. Martin, the pitcher, threw his arm out during the game, and was taken to a doctor, who repaired the damage.

The river is getting lower again, and rivermen are now hoping for a rise in October. The long suspension of navigation is having a good effect on the coming convention in Cincinnati, and the interested parties there are looking for a great attendance. A Liverpool man who knows a thing or two about river work says that slack-watering the Ohio is a big job that will require, with the slow way in which the government does business, at least 20 years.

A good story of Sunday observance was related on the streets last evening. A character succeeded in entering an uptown saloon early in the morning, and imbibing a great quantity of beer during the day was drunk when evening came. At that time he wanted to smoke, and not having a cigar in his pocket he asked the man behind the bar to pass them around. Imagine his surprise and the surprise of others in the saloon when the bartender solemnly said that it was Sunday, and against the law to sell cigars or tobacco.

ATLANTIC TEA CO.

HOME FROM CAMP.

Company E Arrived on Saturday Afternoon in Good Order.

The afternoon train from the west on Saturday brought home the members of Company E, and a sunburned, weary lot they were as they marched to the army.

At 5:30 o'clock they were roused from slumber in camp, and ordered to strike their tents and get out as soon possible. All responded to the command with alacrity, and soon all was in readiness but the quarters of the cook. He still slumbered in silence, and the boys gave him a rude awakening. The ropes were silently loosened, and without any previous alarm the tent came crashing down. In a few minutes he too was ready and the company was marched to a side track and there waited until 10 o'clock before they got away. The hours were long, but the merry crowd made the most of their long wait, and contrived to get some enjoyment out of it. John Gilson was leaning too far from the platform and was knocked off by a passing train, but without much hurt to himself, although the boys thought he had been ground to pieces. James Stevenson, Charles Sinclair and Al McIntosh decided that they would extend their vacation, and instead of coming home took another train for St. Louis, where they expected to arrive today. Corporal Thomas Smith left the train at New Cumberland where he is employed, and the rest of the crowd came home. At the station in Newark every blue coat concealed a fluttering heart, for the girls they had met while in camp were there, in order to see them go home. Touching scenes by the score were recorded, and the susceptible soldiers boarded the cars with heavy hearts, that were heavy for a few miles, and then lightened as the distance increased. The transfer was made in peace at Mingo, and the run over the river division was passed over in good time.

The record of the company while in camp was much better than the soldiers had any reason to expect, and they were praised by the colonel for the splendid manner in which they passed through guard mount. The Wooster company, generally credited with being the crack organization of the regiment, was the only one they feared, but it made several bad breaks and our boys won out. When the regular army officer inspected the regiment, he recommended that Company E be given a complete new outfit, including guns, but it is probable that the arms will not come. The uniforms and haversacks, however, will be replaced with something new at once, and an effort will be made to provide the sergeants with Winchester rifles. All the riot guns are old and rusted beyond repair, and it would almost be worth a man's life to fire one of them. On Friday the battalions were ordered out for a sham battle, a portion of Company E being held in reserve, while the others did duty as skirmishers. A sharpshooter from Akron held an outpost and when an effort was made to take him prisoner by a squad, he fired the blank cartridge in his gun. This was a surprise to the attacking party, and they fled as one man—much to the amusement of the regiment and the crowd of spectators. The boys had a good time, worked hard, and came home happy.

The Newark Tribune, in giving the history of the regiment and discussing the merits of the various companies, treats Company E to the compliment that it had been winning enough praise from the regimental officers to turn the heads of less sensible men. The boys felt good over the remark, but true to the line of judgment were able to wear their caps when they came marching home.

FALL AND WINTER OPENING.

Pleasing Announcement to the Ladies of East Liverpool.

Miss M. A. Farrell, the well known and justly popular milliner, doing business at No. 146 Fifth street, East Liverpool, has just returned from the East, where she was in attendance at the millinery openings of some of the finest establishments in the country. Miss Farrell informs us that the patterns and styles to be worn the coming fall are simply exquisite in design and finish, and are sure to please the taste of the most fastidious. With her usual push and energy, backed by her desire to please her patrons, and the public in general, Miss Farrell will place on exhibition, in the near future, on the occasion of her fall and winter opening, a number of the choicest and most beautiful patterns, to the inspection of which she extends a cordial invitation to the ladies of East Liverpool and vicinity. Watch the columns of the News Review for announcement of Miss Farrell's grand fall and winter opening of millinery goods.

Blowing Their Horn.

A local paper devoted some of its space on Saturday to tickling itself under the chin, patting itself on the back, and pointing out what a marvellous thing it had done in reporting

the flag raising. The News Review gave the exercises to the hour it went to press, and in addition told its readers all the news of the day, while the other, with its limited facilities, could tell nothing but the story of the dedication. The News Review gives all the news all the time.

THE COMING FLOUR.

Best in the World For Health and Economy.

For the first time the Franklin Mills flour of the entire wheat is the coming flour in this city. It is unlike white flour, made by a new process.

Facts showing its actual food value. For dyspepsia, indigestion and constipation. A natural and complete phosphatic food.

Superior to all prepared foods. Unequaled for the brain workers. It is food for the muscular workers.

These are not idle statements, but established facts, appreciated when known, to be further appreciated as the flour becomes better known by use. Ask for the Franklin Mills Co. entire Wheat Flour. Only 75c per sack. For sale by Huntsman, the grocer, who will cheerfully furnish all particulars as to its properties and use.

Picnics and Dances.

The Alvin social club gave a dance in their rooms Saturday evening.

The Waverly club will dance in Bradshaw hall on Friday evening next.

The Fernleaf social club are holding a picnic and dance at Rock Spring this afternoon and the amusement will continue until 10 o'clock.

Invitations have been received here for a masquerade ball in Beaver Falls on October 4.

The picnic to be given by the Catholic church people tomorrow will have for its amusement a number of races, and among them will be a fat man's race. If fine weather favors the picnickers they will have a great time.

Bit by a Dog.

The valuable dog of Joseph Wilson, of Fifth street, was poisoned this morning, and when the owner was attempting to force open its clenched teeth in order to force an emetic down its throat the animal bit him, its teeth passing through the thumb. In spite of prompt medical aid the member swelled rapidly but it is not thought the result will be serious. His hand was also painfully lacerated.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious case of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had bad colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Sixth and West Market street, druggists.

A Money Order.

The play for the Grand this evening is a "Money Order," and will doubtless be seen by a good house. It is a new company and a new play, and to the present time has been very successful. It is a purely comedy drama in four acts, being a story of false love, intrigue and retributive justice. The climax is reached in the third act when the tramp hero escapes from an unjust punishment.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Young Men's Christian association, Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocation; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one-half the time usually required. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Sixth and West Market street, druggists.

A Rise in Leather.

Shoe dealers are much wrought up over the advance in the price of leather, forced on the public by the autocratic trust. Sole leather is the chief article affected, and it is estimated that the advance means from 50 to 75 cents on a pair of shoes over the old prices.

A. M. Bailey, a well known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has cured her sound and well. Give it a trial and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Sixth and West Market street, druggists.

Lightning Hot Drops—What a Funny Name!

Very True, but it KILLS All Pains. Sold Everywhere. Every Day—Without Relief, There is No Pain!

Ripans Tabules purify the blood. Ripans Tabules cure colic.

WANTED—GOOD GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. Apply at 297 Fifth street.

A Clean Collar

One that you can keep clean all the time—a collar that does not wilt when you get over-heated; that does not fray on the edge, or tear out at the buttonholes, and can be cleaned by simply wiping off with a wet sponge or cloth. These collars and cuffs are made by covering linen collars or cuffs on both sides with waterproof "celluloid," thus giving strength and durability. They are the only waterproof goods so made, and every piece is stamped as follows:

Domestic Architecture in Chicago.

The inhabitants of Chicago are the least curious and observing people in the world. According to their own newspapers, they permitted one H. H. Holmes to construct in their city a house so extraordinary, so full of hidden doors and secret passages and acid proof vaults that it would have attracted thousands of curious visitors had it been built anywhere else. But the guileless Chicagoans suspect nothing. Neither the men who issued the building permit nor the men who did the building saw anything unusual about the house. What is the matter? Is all Chicago blind, or are acid proof vaults and secret passages part and parcel of the ordinary Chicago dwelling? Perhaps there is an interesting chapter to be written about domestic architecture in Chicago. —Milwaukee Sentinel.

Setting the Action.

"Jamie," sharply called out his mother, "you've been loafing all day. Satan always finds some work for idle hands to do. Take this basket and bring in some kindling." —Chicago Tribune.

The fool is always dead sure that his own way of doing things is the best, if not the only way, but the wise man wonders if there isn't a better way than the one he has adopted.

OVER $16,000 STOLEN.

The Adams Express Office at Terre Haute, Ind., the Loser.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 9.—The discovery that Adams Express office at Terre Haute, Ind., has been robbed of a package containing $16,000, and possibly more, has caused a great sensation. J. D. Farden, the cashier of the company, and J. M. Barnette, city ticket agent of the Vandalia line, cannot be found. They are supposed to have left the city and the police are unable to find any trace of either of them.

The safe was locked by Farden and could not be opened, as only he himself knew the combination. Local Agent Davidson and Superintendent of Police Meagher called in an expert, who is at work on the safe. The express office is closed pending investigation. The Vandalia city ticket agency and the Adams Express office are in the same room. The $16,000 package was one delivered for shipment to the Cincinnati sub-treasury by Internal Revenue Collector Joshua Jump.

General Michael Ryan, sub-treasurer here, was seen by a reporter at his residence. He said he knew nothing either of the shipment or the loss of the money. It is not compulsory for parties forwarding money to mail a notice thereof, but it is left to the discretion of the sender. He said that it was a little unusual that the money should be sent by the Adams, as all business is generally transacted through the United States Express company, the government having entered into a contract with it. Mr. Fogg of the Adams Express company is in New York and the other officials said they had no details.

Fell From a Church Steeple.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 9.—Charles Freund, a steeple carpenter in the employ of Contractor M. J. Malone, fell from the top of St. Patrick's church, where he was working, and was dashed upon the pavement 130 feet below. He was an old and experienced workman, and none of the scaffolding was disturbed. How he happened to lose his footing cannot be told. He was heard to cry, "Oh, my God!" as he started downward, his body revolving like a wheel until he landed, a bleeding, bruised and shapeless mass, near the entrance of the church.

Struck His Aged Mother.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., Sept. 9.—Jacob Seebach, who represents the First ward in the city council, was arrested on a warrant issued by his aged mother, alleging that he knocked her down. He pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs, and sentenced five days in jail, but the sentence was suspended on promise of good behavior. Mrs. Seebach is aged 70 years, and the councilman's assault upon her has stirred up intense indignation.

Octogenarian in Trouble.

BLANCHESTER, O., Sept. 9.—Henry Exman, farmer, has been arrested in Warren county, charged with assaulting Katie Gunion, aged 14. Exman is nearly 80 years of age and is married. Miss Gunion is the daughter of Jacob Gunion, an engineer in a soap factory at Ivorydale. She has made her home with her grandparents at Oscoda.

Polish Convention at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 9.—About 300 delegates are in the city to attend the annual convention of the Polish National Alliance of America, which assembles here. The delegates attended mass at St. Stanislaus' church, after which they were tendered a reception. They then visited Garfield's tomb in Lake View cemetery.

Forester Delegates Arriving.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 9.—Delegates are beginning to arrive to attend the meeting of the supreme court of the Independent Order of Ancient Foresters of America, which begins on Tuesday. It is said the meeting will be the most important ever held, and delegates will be present from all parts of the country.

Everything Will Be Open.

YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 9.—It has been decided to run everything at the track wide open. The beer hall has been opened, and privileges sold to all who wanted to sell anything on the fair grounds. The public evidently prefers an American fair to the kind the anti-Saloon League wants to run.

SMALL OHIO HAPPENINGS.

DUNRAVEN AS A DESIGNER.

The Twenty Kater Audrey, Which is the Product of His Skill.

Whatever Lord Dunraven, the famous owner of Valkyrie III, does he does well. He was a good soldier, a successful war correspondent and a noted politician. He is also a thorough yachtsman. He not only understands the sailing of a yacht, but he can design and build a fast one when the whim seizes him. He has mastered both seamanship and navigation and has passed an examination before the British board of trade, which makes him a sailing master, invested with legal authority to take charge of a ship. He has turned out a first class boat, that has repeatedly beaten one of the same class, designed by George L. Watson, the creator of the Valkyrie, for the emperor of Germany.

The Audrey is the name of the boat which owes her existence to Lord Dunraven's own talent and ingenuity. She belongs to what in England is termed the 20 rat class—that is to say, her sail area, multiplied by her water line length and divided by 6,000, closely approximates 20. She is about 46 feet on the water line, or about the same length as the Gloriana and the Wasp, the boats which first made Her-reshoff famous. She is a fin keel boat, though not of the extreme type, with a detachable fin like the Niagara, which Herreshoff designed for George Gould, and which, the New York Herald says, has already attained the reputation of being the crack of her class.

Lord Dunraven built the Audrey last year. She was launched somewhat late in the season, and in the few races which she sailed before the season ended was always beaten. Not one whit discouraged by the failure of his own conception, he went to work during the winter, while Watson was remodeling the Audrey, and remodeled the Audrey. The success which she attained this year showed that he found out just what it was that was wrong with her.

Though not first in her class, which is a large one, she comes very near being a good second. She has occasionally beaten the redoubtable Niagara. But she has always shown her heels to the emperor of Germany's Vineta, designed by Watson.

Before the Valkyrie III sailed her maiden race and afterward while she was fitting out for her transatlantic voyage Lord Dunraven raced the Audrey repeatedly, generally steering her himself. That is something requiring nerve, courage and ability, especially where, as in England, the one gun starting system prevails and competitors are numerous, and each one of them is bent on taking full advantage of the rules of the road and of the Yacht Racing association.

Ripans Tabules are of great value.

The Much Abused Property Man.

It is the custom of a good many old town stock companies to foist the unimportant parts of a play upon the long suffering property man, who has to lug baggage during the day and glitter behind the footlights at night. A youth who has these indignities thrust upon him was very indignant once last week. He found that three small roles had been assigned to him. "Say," he remarked to the stage manager, "you can't expect me to plump two people who are on at the same time and are even supposed to fight, can you? The stage manager grinned. "Why, yes," he said, "and you might arrange it the third part come on and separate them."

Dramatist Pinero as an Actor.

"I remember the debut of Arthur W. Pinero, the now famous English dramatist, upon the London stage," says E. Lyons of Richard Mansfield's company. "It was at the Globe theater on April 1, 1877. It was in support of Ada Cavendish in Wilkie Collins' 'Armada.' Leon Byrne and I made our London debut the same time. Pinero was Mr. Man. He was a charming fellow, but as an actor—"

Henry Irving and His 'Sir.'

The question is put, Was it a good thing after all, for Henry Irving, to get knighted? The general impression abroad is that it has acted as a boomerang upon him. Formerly he was "Our Henry" with a Lyceum pit, but now he is a "blasted aristocrat." The great mass of the population of England does not look up to him as do our own Anglomaniacs.
